Subject: I oppose the atheistic Definition of Religious Employer in Health Care Rules
Date: Monday, August 08, 2011 10:09:07 PM

The current definition of religious employer does not provide true conscience protection for those committed to preserving life. Health care plans should not be forced to violate the moral and religious convictions of providers or employees in order to participate in a health care system. Requiring such a dictatorial demand threatens universal access to health care, religious freedom, and the general peace of a free society.

I expect the "Definition of Religious Employer in Health Care Rules" will provide true conscience protection for those committed to preserving life. Nothing less will be acceptable and tolerated.

Let us work together to insure true freedoms of life, liberty and pursuit of happiness as envisioned by our Founding Father will continue as long as our Great Nations exists.

Best regards,

Peter Wingert
